

HIGH MESA FARM

RUSH, COLORADO | 559 ACRES | $2,800,000

High Mesa Farm is a turnkey sod farm and business with equipment, representing a rare opportunity to acquire irrigated farmland with direct access to Colorado's fastest-growing Front Range markets. With 559± total acres, including 220 acres pivot-irrigated by three center pivots, the property combines strong agricultural capacity with established business infrastructure. The sale also includes the ability to lease an established sod farm sales headquarters in Colorado Springs, creating immediate continuity for operations and customer access. High Mesa Farm is not just acreage, it is a complete agricultural enterprise positioned for continued success.

The property is located in Rush, Colorado, an agricultural community in Elbert and Lincoln Counties. Its eastern plains location provides seclusion and affordability, while remaining within reach of both Colorado Springs (approx. 1 hour) and Denver Metro (approx. 90 minutes).

This property consists of a total of 559± acres across Lincoln and Elbert Counties, offering a well-balanced mix of irrigated and dryland acreage. In Lincoln County, 279.42 acres include 120 acres under irrigation with two pivots, each covering 60 acres, along with an additional 119.98 acres of dryland. The Elbert County parcel encompasses 160 acres, with 100 acres irrigated by one pivot. Altogether, there are 220 irrigated acres under three pivots, providing an excellent setup for efficient sod production and other diversified agricultural uses.

WATER RESOURCES

- Multiple productive irrigation and domestic wells that support sod farming operations and housing
- Three center pivots covering 220 acres of irrigation
- Adequate water resources to continue sustainable production across the irrigated tracts

IMPROVEMENTS

High Mesa Farm is equipped with the infrastructure necessary for immediate operations:

- Office & Shop: A 20' x 40' office connected to a 60' x 100' shop, providing administrative, storage, and operational space.
- Two Single-Wide Mobile Homes: On-site housing options for staff or management, enhancing functionality and supporting business continuity.
- Colorado Springs Sales Headquarters: includes the ability to lease the established sod farm sales headquarters at, a prime retail and customer access location.

BUSINESS OPPORTUNITY

This sale includes not only the land and water but also the operating sod farm business and equipment package. With consistent demand driven by Front Range population growth, real estate development, and landscaping industries, the farm offers both immediate income potential and long-term stability.

LOCALE

The Rush, Colorado area is defined by open plains, rural lifestyle, and strategic access to Colorado's expanding urban corridor. The proximity to Colorado Springs and Denver ensures a strong customer base for sod production, while the surrounding counties provide an affordable operating environment. Elbert and Lincoln Counties are also noted for their strong agricultural heritage, steady demand for irrigated land, and role as Colorado's eastern growth corridor.

CLIMATE & WEATHER

The eastern Colorado plains enjoy a four-season climate favorable for sod and crop production. Warm summers, mild springs and autumns, and cooler winters create conditions that allow for consistent agricultural operations throughout the year. The area benefits from strong sun exposure and moderate precipitation, essential for high-quality sod growth under pivot irrigation.

WILDLIFE

In addition to its agricultural utility, High Mesa Farm is home to a variety of Colorado plains wildlife. Whitetail and mule deer are commonly seen on the property, especially near irrigated fields and shelterbelts. Upland game such as pheasant, quail, and dove are also present, making the farm attractive for recreational hunting. Pronghorn antelope roam the open prairie, while coyotes, foxes, and other native species add to the ecological diversity. Migratory waterfowl and raptors frequently traverse the area, benefiting from irrigation systems and open habitat. The presence of this wildlife underscores the farm's natural balance between productive farmland and native ecosystems.

SUMMARY

High Mesa Farm is a rare agricultural offering that combines irrigated land, proven sod production, business infrastructure, and proximity to Colorado's growing Front Range markets. With 559± total acres, 220 acres irrigated, three pivots, office/shop facilities, two mobile homes, and access to an established sales headquarters in Colorado Springs, the property is uniquely positioned as a turnkey farm and business.

SCOT OLIVER

719-283-3079

soliver@ranchland.com

www.ranchland.com

JASON LEGLER

970-978-1559

jason@ranchland.com

www.ranchland.com

RANCH@COMPANY
REAL ESTATE BROKERAGE & AUCTION SERVICES

* The information contained in this brochure has been obtained from sources believed to be reliable and is believed to be correct, but the owners and brokers do not guarantee its accuracy. Offering is subject to errors, withdrawal without notice. All distances, sizes, capacities, and similar measurements and figures are approximate. All information about properties should be independently verified by interested purchasers. All rights reserved. ©

** A division of Mason & Morse Ranch Co., LLC.